

bia river is closed at Oak Point.

WAYLAIID.—On Kittridge's farm, three miles below town, on Saturday last, Thomas Preston waylaid L. Rosenthal, knocked him down, cut him with a knife, and severely kicked him about the face, and attempted to bite his nose off; in the attempt, however, Preston's under lip was nearly all bitten off. The cause was said to be that Rosenthal had accused Preston of defrauding him.

Three men crossed the Columbia river, at